

The Perfect Storm: Tackling a Global Market Crisis

Market Downturns and Key Guiding Principals

22 September 2020,
Tuesday,
3pm to 4pm.

Complimentary.

*Limited slots available,
prior registration is required.*

COVID-19 took the world by surprise and its rippling effects will continue to be felt for many years to come. As Darwin once said "the ones who survive are not the strongest or the most intelligent, but the most adaptable to change."

Becoming resilient and strong enough to weather the storm is only the tip of the iceberg. Staying afloat in the waves of technological advancement, navigating market downturns, remaining steadfast amid a muted global outlook is what all businesses need to do behind the scenes.

Business Investors will need to go an extra mile and be vigilant in choosing what, who and when to put their money in. As markets are turning at breakneck speeds, are you prepared to overcome these dangers and turn them into opportunities?

Join us for a 1-hour webinar, where far-sighted investment fund portfolio manager Goh Tee Leng will be sharing with you insights to the different types of Market Downturns, tips on investing during this global pandemic and key guiding principles you should be on the lookout for.

About the Speaker

Goh Tee Leng is the Portfolio Manager of Heritage Global Capital Fund, having over five years of experience in the financial markets. He also holds a directorial position at Tat Hwa Group, a privately-held, investment holding and management company that serves as the foundation of the Group's umbrella of companies and subsidiaries. Additionally, he is a frequent speaker at investment conferences and his investment-related articles have been published internationally. He also holds a BSc (Hons.) Economics degree from University College London.
